

the number of interacting partners as a function of the fraction of disordered regions line fitted using rlm

